

Alexander Amant

Alexander Amant began teaching at Franklin Phonetic School in Fall of 2021. He has taught 4th grade math and science, middle school science and STEM, as well as subbed throughout the school year. Previously, he has worked at Yavapai College since 2017 doing various roles including four years as a tutor in math, sciences, and writing.

Mr. Amant has a broad background in science, math and engineering which has made him a versatile teacher. He is currently working on a Bachelor of Arts in Secondary Education in General Science. Afterwhich, he hopes to lead a career teaching science and mathematics at the secondary level. He has been the recipient of numerous scholarships, including an engineering grant from the National Science Foundation (NSF), as well as several Yavapai College Foundation Scholarships, and a Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College scholarship from ASU. He won the Outstanding Student Award in Physics.

Mr. Amant loves living with his wife and two daughters in Prescott, where he spends his free time hiking and going to coffee shops on the weekends. When the opportunity presents itself, he and his family love to go to new places and find amazing swimming spots in the summer.
